End of dance. Start again.

There is no meaning behind the title. It was just something quirky that popped into my head while listening to the song. However, some factual info, a Mudpuppy is a type of aquatic salamander. They live on the muddy bottoms of lakes, rivers, and streams. Folklore claims that they make a faint barking sound like a puppy.

This dance was specifically choreographed to be released at Renegades in West Palm Beach, FL to replace a rejected submission.
